Ascend with Flexera

Accelerate innovation, elevate your enterprise

A SaaS-based delivery model transforms the way enterprises conduct business by harnessing its greatest power: flexibility. But flexibility isn't just a benefit of SaaS—it's a necessity to compete in today's digital world.

Ascend¹ flexera one

We've aligned with this market transformation and simplified the way you conduct business by offering our on-premises customers our full suite of solutions through our Ascend with Flexera One program.

Now you can get IT Visibility, IT Asset Management, FinOps and Cloud Optimization and Migration at your fingertips to advance strategic initiatives across your enterprise. When you Ascend with Flexera One, you can be a leader of digital transformation in a way that makes sense for your organization—when you want, where you want and how you want.

The Ascend advantage

Manage your technology portfolio with unparalleled visibility and insight into your hybrid IT estate. Improve the efficiency and allocation of your technology and cloud spend. Operate cloud at scale. That's the power of technology value optimization, which you can now achieve when you Ascend with Flexera One.

Experience the many benefits of our SaaS-based platform:

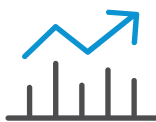

More flexible options to “start small” and a lower point-of-entry cost

Enhanced budget flexibility and contract options

Lock-in pricing options for greater predictability

Improved ROI and ability to implement or scale our latest solutions

Increase visibility and spend efficiency for your hybrid IT portfolio

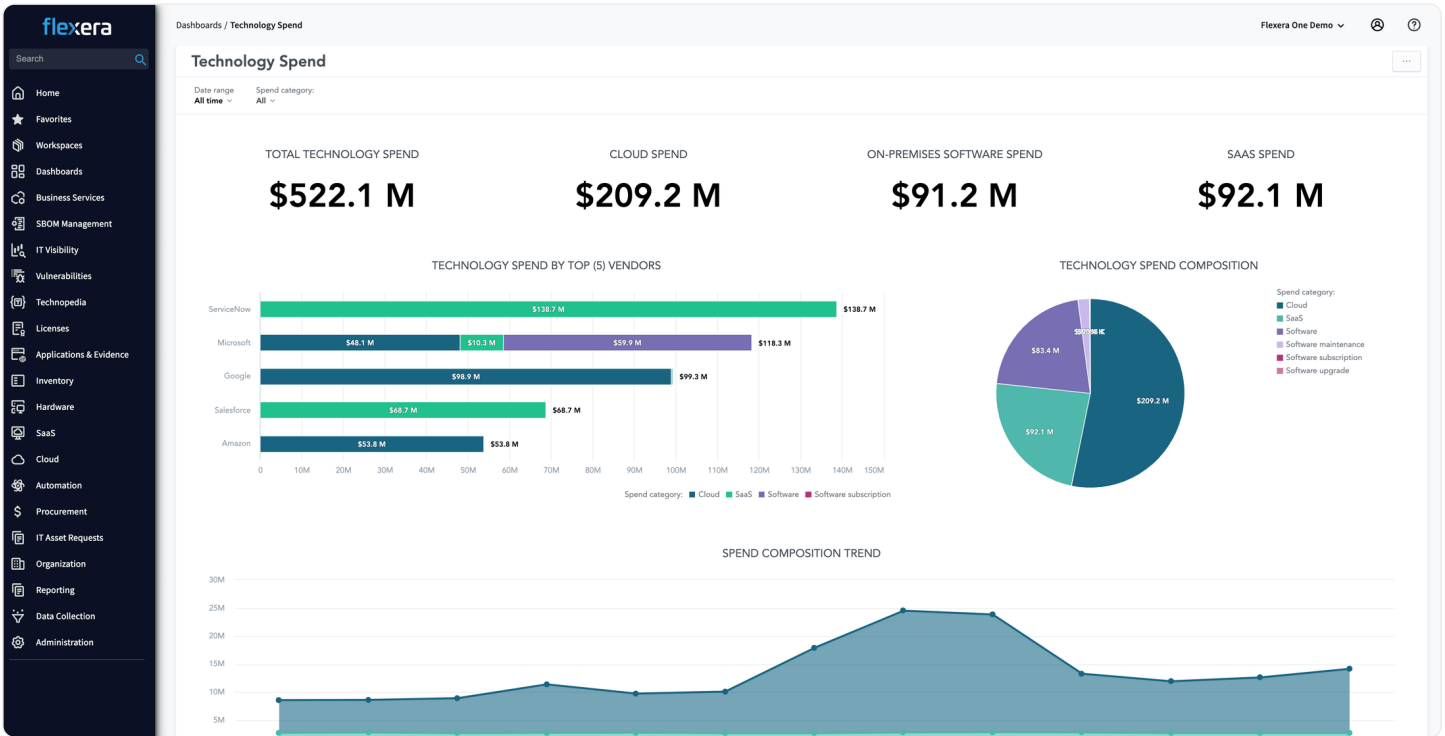

Traditional ITAM isn't enough—you need to manage spend and risk across SaaS, cloud and your entire hybrid IT to remain competitive. When you Ascend with Flexera One, it's easy to expand your IT management scope and enjoy incentive offers for SaaS Management, IT Visibility and FinOps as well as special contract terms like dual-use and value ramps.

You can save time and money when you leverage our fast, low-cost migrations with built-in, quick-start offerings for new capabilities. And you gain access to our complete set of ITAM optimization capabilities across all major vendors.

Boost productivity with platform automation and exclusive features

When customers Ascend with Flexera One, they're more successful than their on-premises counterparts because of the platform advantage and increased level of support. Increased automation and exclusive features mean increased productivity and the ability to focus on what matters most.

New applications and extensions are automatically triaged and filled in the background, helping to ensure your data is always ready, and policy-based automation alerts you when something falls out of line. Utilize exclusive features like new data exploration UI, flexible data access through API, all available Technopedia enrichment packs, and automated business service mapping. All of this helps you run your enterprise more efficiently and cost-effectively.

Streamline complex vendor negotiations and elevate the return on your technology investments with immediate, data-driven insights into your hybrid IT estate

Eliminate on-premises infrastructure, upgrades and administrative expenses

IT spend is shifting from traditional vendors to cloud and SaaS providers, but the goal of maximizing the value of your technology remains the same—regardless of where it’s hosted.

Take control of your infrastructure, upgrades and administrative expenses. Hotfixes and minor updates are applied without intervention, automatic upgrades keep your system up to date, and content updates are applied automatically as they’re released. Flexera One is more economical to maintain than other vendors’ solutions, freeing up your resources to focus on higher value tasks.

Working with Flexera has been phenomenal. This is a company that stands behind their product and is constantly looking for ways to innovate and add new features. Their partnership has also been extraordinary.”
